A MESSAGE FROM FR. STEVE

Lumen Veritatis (This evening—Saturday, March 16) Saturday evening, we will have our next Lumen Veritatis lecture. This month Ana Braga-Henebry will present: “On Good Books: Rediscovering the Art of Reading” What makes a book a good book? Drawing upon a lifetime of experience as a classical educator, writer, and book reviewer, Ana will consider the art of reading, intellectual inquiry, study, and “dialogue” with the written text. Ana is a lifetime educator in various levels, a book reviewer and educational resources content-creator. Having a life-long love for Literature, Ana has led book clubs for women for many years. She presently teaches Latin in our school. The evening begins at 7:00 p.m. in Mercy Hall, and the talk will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Thank you!

Thanks to all those members of the parish who have responded so generously to the Generosity Challenge to be more intentional about giving. Thanks to those who have signed up for online giving, too, which allows us to receive your support even if you happen to be traveling. Please continue to pray that we will be attentive to the leading of the Lord and continue to bear rich fruit that will multiply in our homes, parish, school, and community.

Parish Pastoral Council & Leadership Team

Please keep our Parish Pastoral Council and the Parish Leadership Team in your prayers, as they gather this coming Wednesday to continue to discern the Lord’s leading for the parish. The Leadership Team (comprised of Jacob Allstott, Liz O’Neill, Chris Spalding, Sara DeWitt, and me) has been overseeing the developing of a set of courses that will provide an introduction to Life in Christ as well as a set of mini-courses that will provide teaching on seven marks of discipleship. We are excited to be developing this material, and look forward to being able to introduce the first course this coming Fall. Please continue to pray for us, and for those who are part of our ministry, either as members of our staff, various related ministries, and/or various councils and commissions at the parish and school.

Sara DeWitt

Sara, who serves as our part time Director of Operations, will be taking an eight-week leave of absence while Damien, Joe and Sara’s son, receives therapy in Grand Rapids. Please feel free to email me with questions that you might ordinarily direct to Sara. Thanks. Please also keep them the Dewitt’s in your prayers.

Prayer Series

This Thursday, I will give the final talk in my three-part series on Mental Prayer. It will be held at 7:00 p.m. in Mercy Hall (127 Rumsey). Parts I and II are available on the website.

Quotes on Prayer

In my first talk on prayer on March 7th, I quoted from a great book called The Soul of the Apostolate, written by Dom Jean-Baptiste Chautard, a Trappist monk. In his book, he makes painfully clear the importance and power of the interior life, and the dangers of neglecting our interior life. These reflections (you can read more on our website where my talk is posted) offer words for reflection for us all in this holy season of Lent. We are called to take more time in prayer during this Holy Season. Prayer is the first, and most important, thing! These words are both encouraging and challenging:

“A short but fervent prayer will usually do more to bring about conversion than long discussions or fine speeches. He who prays is in touch with the FIRST cause. He acts directly upon it. And by that very fact he has his hand upon all the secondary causes, since they only receive their efficiency from this superior principle. And so the desired effect is obtained both more surely and more promptly” (p. 36, emphasis in original).

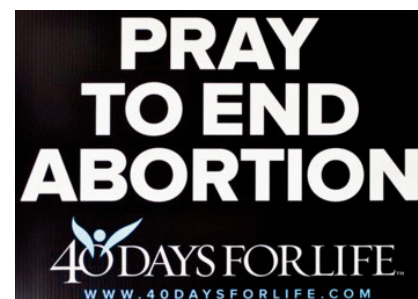

“The more closely a man unites first his own soul, and then that of another, to God, therefore, the more acceptable is his sacrifice. But this intimate and generous, as well as humble union, can only be effected by prayer. To apply oneself to a life of prayer, or to lead others to give themselves to it, is, therefore, more pleasing to God than to devote oneself to activity and good works, and lead others to practice these” (p. 42, emphasis in original).

Family Healing Mass

Next Saturday morning, March 23, from 10:30-12:30, we will gather for a time of formation and prayer for the healing of families, including generational patterns of sin. There will be time after the talk for everyone to reflect on the generational effects of sin in their own families, and then to celebrate a Mass for the healing of families. We will listen to the talk in the church and then spend twenty minutes or so for prayerful reflection. After that, we will pray the Mass together. Call Liz or Fr. Steve for more information.

Excited to see what healing the Lord has for us and for our families,

Father Steve

These baskets will include some homemade items as well as practical items (Chapstick, socks, tea, etc.). The girls and a few mothers will deliver these baskets on April 6.
