PARISH MISSION STATEMENT:

Located in the heart of the City of Lansing, the Church of the Resurrection exists to help everyone in our parish family live in the light and hope of the Resurrection. Encouraged by our experience of God's love, we help others come to know and love Jesus in a personal way. Guided by God's truth, we offer answers to life's real challenges. Inspired by the Holy Spirit, we help each other become mature disciples of Christ who will utilize our gifts to spread the Good News of Jesus in word and deed.

A MESSAGE FROM FR. STEVE

Follow-up to Mother's Day

At the 9:00 a.m. Mass last weekend, I mentioned a reflection that St. Josemaria Escriva gave in response to a question about couples who are childless. I think this message is one very much worth meditating on for all of us, as we think about how God invites us to respond to deep disappointments in our lives.

Question: The frustration caused by not being able to have children leads, at times, to discord and misunderstanding. In your opinion, what meaning should Christian couples who are childless give to their married life?

St. Josemaria's answer: In the first place I would tell them that they should not give up hope too easily. They should ask God to give them children and, if it is His Will, to bless them as He blessed the Patriarchs of the Old Testament. And then it would be good for both of them to see a good doctor. If in spite of everything God does not give them children, they should not regard themselves as being thwarted. They should be happy, discovering in this very fact God's Will for them. Often God does not give children because He is asking them for something more.

God asks them to put the same effort and the same kind and gentle dedication into helping their neighbors as they would have put into raising their children, without the human joy that comes from having children. There is, then, no reason for feeling they are failures or for giving way to sadness. If the married couple have interior life, they will understand that God is urging them to make their lives a generous Christian service, a different apostolate from the one they would have fulfilled with their children, but an equally marvelous one.

If they look around they will discover people who need help, charity and love. There are, moreover, many apostolic tasks in which they can work. If they give themselves generously to others and forget themselves, if they put their hearts into their work, they will be wonderfully fruitful and will experience a spiritual parenthood that will fill their souls with true peace.

The particular way of doing this may vary in each case, but in the last analysis it is a matter of being concerned for others with a sense of loving service. God, who always rewards, will fill with a deep joy those souls who have had the generous humility of not thinking of themselves.

As I mentioned after the 9:00 a.m. Mass last week, I think he seems to overlook the great gift that adoption is for families and for the children who are adopted.

Romans 8

Last week, I quoted from St. Paul's letter to the Romans, as we think about how God works through all the various challenges of our lives. I want to encourage us all to believe these powerful truths, and to take our struggles to the Lord in prayer:

28 We know that all things work for good for those who love God, who are called according to his purpose 35 What will separate us from the love of Christ? Will anguish, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or the sword? 36 As it is written: "For your sake we are being slain all the day; we are looked upon as sheep to be slaughtered." 37 No, in all these things we conquer overwhelmingly through him who loved us. 38 For I am convinced that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor present things, nor future things, nor powers, 39 nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Super Raffle

The Super Raffle drawing will be held June 9th at 7:30 p.m. We have 500 tickets, which sell for $100 each. The prizes will be $10,000, $2,000, $1,000, $750, $750, and $500. You needn't be present to win. It's a great way to support the parish and to have the possibility of winning up to $10,000. Tickets are available at the parish office, and will be available in the parish hall during coffee & donuts and café. Tickets can be purchased with cash, check, or credit card at the office, and they can be purchased online with credit card. Stay tuned for additional times after Mass that tickets will be available in the JP II Room (the old St. Vincent de Paul Room), just north of the elementary school. As I mentioned at some of the Masses last weekend, these funds will go into the general fund, but will be very helpful as we anticipate expenditures associated with opening up a second Kindergarten in our school next year. Please pray for continued wisdom for us, and thank you for your ongoing generosity to the parish!

An Introduction to Ignatian Rules of Discernment (May 16 and May 23)

The last talk in the three part series on the Rules of Discernment of St. Ignatius of Loyola will be this coming Thursday evening in Mercy Hall, beginning at 7:00 p.m. Hope to see you there. You can listen to their first two talks on our website.

Women's Evening of Adoration

Because of the prayer talk on Thursday evening, the Women's Evening of Adoration is being moved to Friday night from 7-8 p.m.

Celebrating Seniors!

Congratulations to all the high school graduates from the Church of the Resurrection. Today, we honor graduating seniors at our 9:00 a.m. Mass. I will give a blessing to them, as they anticipate their graduation and the next chapter in their lives. Please keep all our graduates in your prayers.

With gratitude and prayers for our graduating seniors, Father Steve
