The more a person loves God,
the more reason he has to hope in Him. This hope produces in the Saints an unutterable peace, which they preserve even in adversity, because as they love God, and knows how beautiful

He is to those who love Him, they place all their confidence and find all their repose in Him alone.”

Welcome to the Church of the Resurrection!

If you are visiting us, we are so glad you are here. If you have decided to join our parish community, please register online at www.corlansing.org, or stop by the parish office: 1514 E Michigan Ave., Lansing.

From the Ox Roast Committee:

After months of careful thought and prayer, we the members of the Ox Roast Committee have decided that the safety of our parish members and of the community come first. So we the Ox Roast Committee are recommending not holding the Ox Roast this year. This decision was not made lightly. We considered many ways of having an Ox Roast, but given the regulations, changing rules, and lack of state offices open, our hands were tied. We make the commitment to the parish that we will have the best Ox Roast ever next year. Thank you and stay well.

Copper Harbor Reflections

I'm writing this Tuesday morning in my campsite. It's been a wonderful and restorative time. Thanks for your prayers for me. I've been praying for all of you, most especially each morning, when I've celebrated Mass at Our Lady of the Pines. Each day, I've remembered those who are seriously sick among our parishioners and their families. This morning, I celebrated Mass for the Memorial of St. Kateri Tekakwitha, the "Lily of the Mohawks." It seemed particularly fitting today, in these times when we as a culture are wrestling with our nation's past, to ask for St. Kateri's intercession.

St. Kateri Tekakwitha, Pray for Us!

The website for the National Shrine offers this biography: Kateri Tekakwitha was a young Mohawk woman who lived in the 17th century. The story of her conversion to Christianity, her courage in the face of suffering and her extraordinary holiness is an inspiration to all Christians . . .

Kateri was born in 1656 of an Algonquin mother and a Mohawk Chief in the Mohawk village of Ossernenon (modern day Auriesville) in upstate New York. When she was only four years old her parents and brother died of smallpox. Kateri survived the disease, but it left her face badly scarred and her eyesight impaired. Because of her poor vision, Kateri was named "Tekakwitha," which means "she who bumps into things." Kateri was taken in by her uncle who was bitterly opposed to Christianity. When she was 8 years old, Kateri's foster family, in accordance with Iroquois custom, paired her with a young boy who they expected she would marry. However, Kateri wanted to dedicate her life to God by remaining single and offering her life to Jesus.

When Kateri was ten, in 1666, a war party composed of French soldiers and hostile Natives from Canada destroyed the Mohawk strongholds on the south bank of the Mohawk, including Ossernenon. The surviving Mohawks moved to the north side of the river and built their fortified village about half a mile west of the present village of Fonda. Kateri lived in Caughnawaga, site of the present Shrine, for her next ten years.

When Kateri was 18 years of age, she began instructions in the Catholic faith in secret. Her uncle finally relented and gave his consent for Kateri to become a Christian, provided that she did not try to leave the Indian village. For joining the Catholic Church, Kateri was ridiculed and scorned by villagers. She was subjected to unfair accusations and her life was threatened.

Nearly two years after her baptism, in St. Peter's Chapel at the present Kateri Shrine in Fonda, she escaped to the Mission of St. Francis Xavier, a settlement of Christian Natives in Canada. The village in Canada was also named Caughnawaga (Kahnawake). Here she was known for her gentleness, kindness, and good humor. On Christmas Day 1677 Kateri made her First Holy Communion and on the Feast of the Annunciation in 1679 made a vow of perpetual virginity. She also offered herself to the Blessed Mother Mary to accept her as a daughter.

During her time in Canada, Kateri taught prayers to children and worked with the elderly and sick. She would often go to Mass both at dawn and sunset. She was known for her great devotion to the Blessed Sacrament and to the Cross of Jesus.

During the last years of her life, Kateri endured great suffering from a serious illness. She died on April 17, 1680, shortly before her 24th birthday, and was buried in present day Kahnawake, Quebec, Canada. Tradition holds that Kateri's final words were "Jesus, I love you," after which she embraced her creator for all eternity. Witnesses reported that within a few minutes of her death, the pock marks from smallpox completely vanished and her face shone with radiant loveliness.

Before her death, Kateri promised her friends that she would continue to love and pray for them in Heaven. Both Native Americans and settlers immediately began praying for her heavenly intercession. Several people, including a priest who attended Kateri during her last illness, reported that Kateri had appeared to them and many healing miracles were attributed to her.

Fifty years after Kateri's death the first convent for Indian nuns was established in Mexico and they prayed daily for Sainthood for Blessed Kateri. Their prayers were answered on October 21, 2012 when Kateri was canonized as the first Native American woman to be honored with sainthood.

Lord, Heal Our Land!

As we grapple as a nation and a Church with our past, it seems most important to strive always to see everything from the aspect of eternity. Seeing ourselves and others as God does invites us to a deeper awareness of the need for mercy and for love. May we be among those who love God with our whole hearts, and our neighbors as ourselves.

Formation Course: Love of God and Neighbor

Beginning this Thursday at 7:00 p.m. in the church (and by livestream), we will begin a three part formation course on loving God and Neighbor. Let's pray for each other, that we will know how best to support each other in loving God and neighbor.

Looking forward to returning to the parish,

Father Steve
