Labor Day

The offices will be closed on Monday, September 2nd for the celebration of Labor Day. Enjoy your weekend! We will have Mass as usual at 8:15 a.m.

Church Renovation Update

As I mentioned last Sunday, we will announce next weekend when we'll be back in the church for Masses. We are hoping for three weeks from today (September 21-22), but it may be the following weekend (September 28-29). We'll still have some aspects that will need to be installed, but it will be wonderful to be back to the church, rather than Lansing Catholic High School's chapel (as nice as it is) and Mercy Hall. Our plan is to return to our old Mass schedule when we move back to the church. Stay tuned for the exact date for that. (As a reminder, that's 5:00 p.m. Saturday, and 9:00 a.m., 11:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Sunday.)

Volunteers Needed for the Ox Roast on October 11 & 12

As we anticipate the Ox Roast festival, please consider volunteering for a shift or more. We see this as an outreach to our community, a celebration of our parish, and a fundraiser. Thanks in advance for giving some time in service to the community and our parish. The chairpersons of the different areas have created a Sign-Up Genius for volunteers. We are very excited about the Ox Roast in October, and look forward to hearing from you! The link to sign-up is on our website.

Interested in learning more about the Catholic Church (RCIA)?

Each fall, as we begin a new season of learning, we also begin programming for those who are interested in learning more about the Catholic faith. Perhaps that's you or someone you know. This year, Greg Ingle will be teaching classes for adults as well as high school students who are interested in learning more and potentially becoming Catholics at the Easter Vigil in the spring. OCIA (formerly RCIA) classes will begin Sunday morning, October 20 at 9:00 a.m. in the JP II Room. (OCIA stands for the Order of Christian Initiation of Adults.) You can email Greg Ingle by email at RCIA@corlansing.org. Feel free to call the parish office for more information (517.482.4749), and ask for Debbie McPherson who is the office contact for OCIA. Let's keep praying for others, and witnessing to them, as we share in our lives and with our words what it means to be Catholic Christians.

Follow-up to Last Sunday

As I mentioned last Sunday, the Church is the guarantor of what is true regarding faith and morals. We can bank on what the Church teaches officially. Hopefully all of us will say with Joshua, "As for me and my household, we will serve the Lord." That's the path forward, and we can rely on what the Church teaches because the Lord promised as much. Some of the teachings are difficult, to be sure. But when that's the case, we should never dismiss the teachings or ignore them, assuming they are "outmoded" or "no longer binding." In October, the Church will again gather for what has been a years-long "Synod on Synodality," during which some activists will no doubt seek to get the Church to "update" or change difficult teachings. In reference to the upcoming Synod, it is wise to recall that not all changes that are proposed are "developments," but some of them are what St. John Henry calls "corruptions." Here are some reflections on how to determine what changes are authentic developments, and which could be "corruptions" of the "modernist" kind today, such as those I referenced on Sunday. St. John Henry Newman tells us to look at any proposed changes in light of what he calls "seven notes" of a "genuine development of Christian doctrine" as contrasted with a "corruption." The seven notes are the following: 1) preservation of type, 2) continuity of principles, 3) power of assimilation, 4) logical sequence, 5) anticipation of its future, 6) conservation of the past, and 7) chronic vigor. His point is that genuine developments never radically change what has gone before, but are always in natural (and supernatural) continuity with what has gone before. In light of proposals at the Synod that seem to call for radical change, I find Newman's short description of the seventh note very helpful: We have arrived at length at the seventh and last test, which was laid down when we started, for distinguishing the true development of an idea from its corruptions and perversions: it is this. A corruption, if vigorous, is of brief duration, runs itself out quickly, and ends in death; on the other hand, if it lasts, it fails in vigor and passes into a decay. This general law gives us additional assistance in determining the character of the developments of Christianity commonly called Catholic. In other words, even if what he would consider corruptions are approved by the Synod on Synodality, Newman's reading of history tells him that they will not last. And, if they do last, they will eventually die out, because the Lord's promise holds: "I have yet many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come" (John 16:12-13). This promise is not made to me or to you, but to the Church as a whole. Come, Holy Spirit, guide us into all truth!

With great love for the tradition we've received,

Fr. Steve

Altar Society Funeral Luncheon Coordinator

The Altar Society is looking for a Funeral Lunch Coordinator(s). Interested persons can contact Cindi Currie at 517-483-3279 or curriecindi@aol.com. Here are the details:

- When a funeral is scheduled at the Church of the Resurrection, the Parish Secretary will notify the Funeral Lunch Coordinator (FLC) if the family would like a luncheon. The Secretary will provide a family contact name and phone number.
- The FLC contacts the family representative and explains that a caterer will provide the meal. The meal options are discussed, along with the cost per guest. The family rep is asked to select a meal and provide the number of guests expected. (No later than 72 hours prior to the funeral, if possible.)
- The FLC notifies the president of the Circle scheduled to provide desserts that month.
- When a menu is selected and a count given, the caterer is notified.
- The FLC contacts individuals on the Volunteer list and schedules for Table Setup, Beverage Prep, Dessert Setup, Serving Table Setup, and Cleanup.
- The FLC inventories the supplies in the Mercy Hall Altar Society Storage Cabinet and purchases any supplies needed. (Paper plates, salad bowls, dessert plates, hot/cold cups, napkins, placemats, coffee, lemon drink...)
- The day of the funeral the FLC oversees the setup/prep of the luncheon (and may perform these tasks herself), making sure things are ready. When the guests have arrived, the food is set out on the serving table(s) and replenished as needed. After the meal, the FLC ensures that the dining area and kitchen are cleaned, serving materials are cleaned and put away, and supplies put away.
- The Caterer invoice and payment for the meal are submitted to the Altar Society Treasurer.
