I don't know about you but I am never sure from one day to the next what season of the year it is. Some days feel like fall and some more like winter. It looked crazy a few days ago when people were still walking around in their winter coats. Even Fr. Brian Meldrum, who is "in residence" this summer from his courses at the Catholic University of America, was looking for his winter scarf after leaving Washington where it was 90 degrees!

We do know that, despite the weather outside, it is still Easter in our Church and hopefully in our hearts. We keep moving closer to the great celebration of Pentecost (June 9) with the joy of Easter and the power of the Risen Christ ever present in our minds and in the Spirit that propels us outward to our brothers and sisters. If we go back to that Easter story when the disciples started to spread the Good News after the Resurrection, we too can be inspired to do the same, especially since we know the whole story and truth of Jesus Christ.

In a few weeks it will be two years since Archbishop Vigneron issued, on the vigil of Pentecost in 2017, his ground-breaking pastoral letter, Unleash the Gospel. Since that time, the Holy Spirit has been quite active in Southeast Michigan! The culture and understanding of who we are and what we are doing as a Church is vastly different, and it is producing great results! As we get closer to another Pentecost, we acknowledge that the renewal of the Church does not stop but continues in all of us. I believe exciting times are very much ahead of us as we focus on our mission of the parish in more concrete terms, "thinking outside the box" and in ways that will appear to be bold compared to our past.

Let us continue to pray for that very unleashing the Gospel in Southeast Michigan and within our own community. May the Holy Spirit guide us, and Mary help us, to come closer to the Lord and know his great love for us!  Thank you for your pledges and donations to the CSA. Your sacrifice and gift is greatly valued by the over 100 ministries and programs funded by the CSA. Certainly all the men and women who are studying for various degrees and certificates in pastoral ministry at Sacred Heart Major Seminary appreciate your gift! The work of the Lord is endless and this is one way for us to share in that work and open doors for Christ.

 The parish office will be closed this Friday.

 Next Monday, we will be the host for Mass on Memorial Day at 9 am and especially welcome our sisters and brothers from St. Joan of Arc and St. Lucy parishes.

Rejoice in the Lord and exalt in His love for you!

Excerpts from Archbishop Vigneron's statement on Pope Francis' recently released Motu Proprio Vos estis lux mundi ("You are the light of the world") concerning global rules for reporting abuse:

Archbishop: No One Above Civil or God's Law

A new papal law requiring priests and religious to report sexual abuse and misconduct provides "clear directives for universal accountability in response to the horrors of clergy sexual abuse," Archbishop Vigneron has told Detroit Catholic. The law provides whistleblower protections for anyone making a report and requires all dioceses to have a system in place to receive the claims confidentially. And it outlines internal procedures for conducting preliminary investigations when the accused is a bishop, cardinal or religious superior.

"I am deeply sorry to all those who have been injured and are enduring a lifetime of physical, emotional and spiritual suffering because of perverse actions by those in authority," the archbishop said. "No one is above civil law, and importantly, no one is above God's law." Pope Francis announced the new norms on May 9. They go into effect June 1. To learn more about the groundbreaking new church law, go to detroitcatholic.com.

Individuals with knowledge of sexual abuse by clergy or church representatives are urged to contact local law enforcement and the Michigan Attorney General's office. Individuals also may contact the Archdiocese of Detroit by visiting protect.aod.org.

UNLEASH THE GOSPEL

go and make disciples

We are now in the glorious season of Easter. One of the things that stands out for me during this season is that there is no reading from the Old Testament at Mass other than the responsorial Psalm. I don't know about you, but I really like reading about the early days of the church when the ideas and beliefs we hold true were being formulated. It's uplifting and encouraging to read about the first evangelists. Acts is the story of how the first disciples carried out the mission entrusted to them by Jesus. And by the way that mission was entrusted to all of us. Each one of us is called to bring Christ to others. Unleash the Gospel is the archdiocesan initiative to "change the DNA" of the church in southeastern Michigan. It's asking every member to share the Good News of Jesus Christ. If bringing Jesus Christ to all is good news, why do we need to be reminded that our mission is to joyfully share this?

Over the years, the church moved from mission to maintenance. There are volumes written about how we, as a church, moved away from our mission to evangelize.

So, how do we get back to being mission focused? First it involves a change in mindset—we need to understand and believe that each one of us is called to share the Good News of Jesus Christ; not just clergy, religious or deacons but each one of us. It is our primary and essential job as Christian Catholics.

And what is that Good News? Simply put, God loves and forgives us unconditionally, we belong to the family of God, we are worthwhile and there is a purpose for living. Do we need training, new skills? Sometimes but not always. It means using our unique talents and gifts to help everyone feel the love of Jesus. Changing our approach to sharing that faith is what it's all about.

We may just need to enhance or enrich our approach. Or it might mean a complete change. St. John Henry Newman once said, "To live is to change, and to be perfect is to have changed often." Let's ask the Holy Spirit to guide us as to how we can better share our faith.

CSA— Christian Service

“Finding God in All Things” was the focus of this month’s Christian Service Coordinators Association Retreat.

In our parishes, Christian service ministry helps parishioners put their faith into action. Coordinators ensure a full response to Catholic social teaching and promotes and coordinates actions that eliminate the cause of human need in our society.

Your gifts to the Catholic Services Appeal help fund this annual retreat for Christian service coordinators as well as the work of the Christian Service Advisory Committee, which advises the Archdiocese in the areas of disabilities, pastoral care to the sick, and parish-based Christian service outreach. Committee members plan and provide training, educational topics, networking opportunities and materials that strengthen the skills and abilities of Christian service coordinators.

For more information about CSA –funded ministries, programs, and services, go to aod.org.
